FILM SYNOPSIS

After years of back-breaking toil in ground ravaged by the effects of man-made growing systems, Paul Gautschi has discovered a taste of what God intended for mankind in the garden of Eden. Some of the vital issues facing agriculture today include soil preparation, fertilization, irrigation, weed control, pest control, crop rotation, and PH issues. None of these issues exist in the unaltered state of nature or in Paul's gardens and orchards. "Back to Eden" invites you to take a walk with Paul as he teaches you sustainable organic growing methods that are capable of being implemented in diverse climates around the world.

CAST BIOGRAPHIES

PAUL GAUTSCHI has been a gardener for over 55 years and is known locally as a master arborist. Paul has given lively tours of his orchards and gardens to international groups from 1 to 450 who have also enjoyed the fruits of his labor. Published articles featuring Paul and his gardens include Sunset magazine, Peninsula Daily News, radio interviews on The Prepper Broadcasting Network.

DR. DON WILKINS has spent over forty years as an ecologist, specializing in human ecology. Most of his research, as a university professor, has been directed toward sustainability. Since 1999, he has spent his time fostering community awareness of the environment, much of it focusing on the role of healthy plant-based diets in promoting both human and environmental health. He has written reams of articles including "Get your kids to eat healthy food: no superhuman powers required."

JI DOUGLAS has twenty years of experience as a professional horticulturalist. He is currently a Nursery Manager in Washington state, specializing in landscape design and installation.

“Joel Salatin Confirms the Benefits of Back to Eden Gardening”

Back to Eden News & Reviews (Oct. 2014)

<http://www.backtoedenfilm.com/gardenblog>

“Essentially, this method uses year-round mulch rather than tillage to keep and prepare the garden. It eliminates soil moisture fluctuations and suppresses weeds.”

“Mulch Hits The Big Screen: DOCUMENTARY FILM ON MASTER GARDENER PAUL GAUTSCHI'S GOT THE SPIRIT”

Planet Natural (July 2014)

<http://www.planetnatural.com/back-to-eden-film/>

“One of the better gardening films is 2011’s Back to Eden from producers/directors Dana Richardson & Sarah Zentz. It’s the first film that I know of that makes mulch a superstar.”

“Back to Eden – How Simple, Natural Methods Can Take the Work Out of Gardening, and Boost Your Harvest”

Mercola (June 2014)

<http://articles.mercola.com/sites/articles/archive/2014/04/26/back-to-eden-organic-gardening.aspx>

“The featured documentary, Back to Eden, reveals a simple organic gardening method that can not only transform your personal garden, but may even be part of the food solution needed on a global scale as well.”

“See Back to Eden Film to Learn About Using Wood Chip Mulch”

“As a big fan of wood chip mulch, I watched with great interest the popular documentary film Back to Eden, the first-ever feature-length movie on mulch.”

“Book and Film Reviews: Back to Eden”

Organic NZ Magazine (January/February 2012)

<http://www.organicnz.org/>

“This US documentary focuses on the organic practices of Paul Gautschi; who asked God and looked to the Bible for guidance in how to grow food, and found that nature has all the answers.”

“Back to Eden: Simple Sustainable Solutions”

Organic Consumers Association (September 15, 2011)

<http://organicconsumers.org/bytes/OrganicBytes294.pdf>

“Back to Eden offers not only a fresh perspective on critical environmental issues but digs deeper into true stories of experiencing faith, seeking relationship and the power of forming community.”
